Dear Sir: Please make Lindberg shut his big mouth. He is un-American and is doing Hitler a lot of harm by his speeches and doing Hitler a lot of good. He calls himself "Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh". He is not a Col but a traitor and if he were in some foreign countries & would talk against their Govt. he would be put up against a stone wall & shot. Free speech is ok but not when it injures Uncle Sam. I am 58 years old - was a 4 minute speaker during World War. have Hon. discharge as such - have always been 100% American but I can not stand for any one to cuckle Uncle Sam. If Lindberg won't fight him, an option & let him peel potatoes - there are enough old men women & kids here to whip Hitler. You know one rotten apple in a barrel will ruin the whole barrel. so please mugger the above named traitor - coward - you can send him a copy of letter if you care to.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

I have received a copy of the letter which you addressed to the Vice President under date of July 3, 1941, and the reference communication, consisting of an unidentified letter addressed to Mr. Wallace from Port au Prince, Haiti, complaining concerning the use of franked envelopes bearing the name of Congressman James C. Oliver for the transmission of reprints of the testimony of Charles A. Lindbergh before a United States Senate Committee. I am incorporating this information in the files of the Bureau, but in the absence of a specific request I will initiate no investigation. Since the subject matter of this complaint relates to an alleged irregularity on the part of a member of Congress I do not believe the Bureau should initiate any investigation in the absence of specific Departmental instruction to do so.

I am returning herewith the letter of July 8, 1941, from the Vice President and the enclosure mentioned therein, copies thereof having been retained in the Bureau files.

CONFIDENTIAL

Dear Sir:

In a recent issue of the New York Herald Tribune I notice that your attention has been drawn to the apparent abuse by certain congressmen of their "franking" privileges, and in that connection I think the following statement may be of interest.

Two or three months ago I received a franked envelope bearing the name of James C. Oliver, Congressman, enclosing long reprints of the testimony of Charles A. Lindbergh before a Committee of the U. S. Senate. I had never heard of Mr. Oliver and was at a loss to know how he happened to have my name and address. I noticed that the post mark was New York, not Washington and that the address was by "sticker" such as is used by publications to which one subscribes. My name and address were correct but the expiry date did not seem to correspond with any publication to which I subscribe regularly. After looking over my checks in payment of my subscriptions I found that this sticker was normally attached to copies of the "Commentator". When Lowell Thomas was editor of this magazine I was a subscriber, but when it was taken over by Scribner and I found that it was pro-Nazi, I told them to discontinue sending copies to me. It would appear, therefore, that these franked envelopes were turned over unaddressed to the "Commentator" and that they used the mailing list of their subscribers to spread the doctrines of Lindbergh and his kind.

I have been told that when the "Commentator" changed hands, Lindbergh was the prime mover and that it was understood that the paper would be a medium for airing his views and those other anti Americans whose superior wisdom and knowledge make about 90% of their fellow countrymen ignoramuses, according to them.

Being British, I do not love Lindbergh and threw the reprints of his testimony in the waste basket. I have marked this letter "confidential" as I do not wish to have my name mentioned but the subject matter is at your disposal. I may say that I am Auditor of an American Company here.

MEMORANDUM FOR HONORABLE J. EDGAR HOOVER, DIRECTOR, FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

This refers to your memorandum of July 18, concerning Marvin E. Rutherford of Abilene, Texas, who claims that he sent plans for a bullet-proof non-inflammable airplane gasoline tank to Colonel Lindbergh, and that such a tank was found on a German airplane shot down in England. Rutherford suspects that Colonel Lindbergh may have transmitted his plans to a foreign government.

The facts set forth in the complaint contain no evidence of a violation of a Federal criminal statute. No investigation should, therefore, be made.

Dear Walter:

I have received many letters in praise of Lowell's and my article on Lindbergh and of course, many viciously attacking both of us.

Practically all of the letters in disagreement carry neither signature nor address. Included in the batch was the enclosed and I am sending it on to you with the thought that you might want to pass it on to your friends in the F.B.I. Ordinarily I don't pay any attention to anonymous letters, but I thought you might want to show this one.

DEAR MR. BRUNO:-

IN YOUR ARTICLE IN THE AMERICAN MAGAZINE FOR AUGUST 1941, YOU ASK, WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH LINDBERGH? IT MAY BE A MYSTERY TO MOST PERSONS, BUT IT IS NO MYSTERY ME. I SHALL COME TO THE POINT AT ONCE. HITLERISM IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE KIDNAPPING OF LINDY JR. AND HIS SON STILL LIVES BUT JR. CANNOT LIVE AT THE HOME OF HIS DEARLY BELOVED PARENTS. I CANNOT HELP IT IF YOU DO NOT BELIEVE ME. I HAVE SEEN LINDBERGH JR. TWO TIMES HE IS AN EXACT REPLICA OF HIS DEAR FATHER. THAT IS WHAT I READ IN JR'S. FACE - THAT COULD NOT LIVE AT THE HOME OF PARENTS.

THERE IS MORE. I AM THE WOMAN WHO IS THE MYSTERY WOMAN IN THEIR PLOT. I WAS DRAGGED INTO IT BY MY HUSBAND WHO WAS THE LEAD OFF MAN FOR THE KIDNAPPERS. YOU KNOW - THROUGH THE CODE. I HAVE BEEN FORCED TO SUFFER NINE YEARS IN STATE INSTITUTIONS FOR IT BESIDES, THOUGH NO ONE WILL ADMIT THAT THAT WAS THE REASON MY BEING HELD LOCKED UP. LEAD OFF

SUPER MAN

If Charles A. Lindbergh must discard his attitude of modesty in the interest of "keeping America out of war," why not send him to Germany and Italy to do his talking. There is nothing on record to indicate that he has ever offended Hitler or Mussolini. On the other hand his unfriendliness to Great Britain is obvious to the world. His willingness to let German military power gradually envelop the world is evident in his repeated claims that England would be defeated and that the United States had better keep out of the mess.

If Lindbergh is truly in earnest and believes that the United States alone in a world dominated by Germany, Italy and Japan victorious over Great Britain and Russia, could retain its democratic independence, let us send him to Berlin to intercede for peace "for the United States."

Let Lindbergh tell Hitler on some plan to convince loyal Americans that once he has conquered all of Europe and Africa he will not include South America, Central America, Mexico, Alaska and Texas" in his plan for reforming the world according to Nazi standards. Better still, let Lindbergh ignore Hitler, for the sake of letting the German war lord remain neutral in the matter, and go direct to the American people with his message. No doubt Hitler will be glad to permit Lindbergh "free speech" in Germany and throughout conquered Europe, to talk about negotiated peace.

It is not enough for Lindbergh to tell intelligent American citizens that Hitler has no designs on them. If he wants a negotiated Hitler-peace, he must first tell the top-ranking peace-making-by-force ruler on how such a peace could assure those few unconquered nations of the world that later on a restored and revitalized Germany might not want to extend its protection to the German, Italian and Japanese minorities within their borders.

Instead of trying to tell an educated American public into a false feeling of security that their unposed public is confused by his statements, Lindbergh had best go to Berlin and speak to Hitler.

cause the isolationists in Congress fought efforts to maintain a strong army, navy and air force starting back in 1919, and continuing in spite of the fact that certain prominent isolationists visited Germany and had a chance to see for themselves just what Germany was doing, would sooner or later threaten our national safety.

PRIVILEGE!

With all due respect to the loyal American citizens of Oklahoma City, it does seem undemocratic to deny Lindbergh the right to speak in their auditorium. While the great majority of Americans are pro-British, realizing that it is good for us to be allied with the great English-speaking and peace-loving democracy that stands between the United States and the aggressor nations, actually we are not at open war.

It follows that some Americans are pro-German and yet they may be loyal to our nation in the final showdown.

If Lindbergh is granted the right of free speech something also permitted in England but long denied to citizens of Hitler's Germany, and then if the American public draws the conclusion from Lindbergh speeches that he is pro-Hitler, that is a citizen must bear.

What Americans think of him is determined by what he says, and it is a matter of record that blames Britain for entering the war, even Poland for resisting Germany, but never since he criticized Hitler for having plunged the world in the agony of the present bloodbath.

Yes, if the American public gets the idea Lindbergh is pro-Nazi, it is because he has had an opportunity to exercise his democratic privilege "free speech."

An American in Germany (or in Russia) who for that matter would have a much harder time trying to tell the citizens of that country how the pro-American he might be.

Let Lindbergh talk. If in our democracy a majority is finally convinced that a Hitler-directed peace and a Nazi-controlled world is best for us, it may be hard to take, but here the majority rules, and we know that majority is anti-Lindbergh. So let the democratic privilege, super-men. Perhaps Lindbergh is the man for the job. Let us hope so.

Certainly Hitler, if given half a chance, would propose that you'd guarantee that Sooth or later in Germany fat and strong as the result of conquest, and with its military and naval forces greatly strengthened during a few months or a few years of inactivity, would not again turn its forces of destruction upon that small portion of the world then resisting his policy of world reconstruction.

We know what a mighty military force Hitler built for Germany during seven lean years, years of bitter depression, years of sacrifice, years of hunger, years of treaty-breaking, years of international suspicion. Give him another seven years of peace, and with the resources of conquered Europe, Africa and parts of Asia, he will, indeed, come close to being the very first man to rule the entire globe, Japan and Italy notwithstanding.

Lindbergh may see all of this, but he may still believe that even under such circumstances, it would be much better to take the chance, than to waste American lives trying in vain to stem what may seem to him an impossible and overwhelming tide.

It could be that he has "something." Just what, we do not see clearly. He knows that Americans desire peace, but not peace at any price. If it is peace and security for the American people that he wants, and he really feels that Germany is invincible, then it would seem that he could best serve the citizens of the United States by going direct to the man who started all of this bloodshed, Herr Hitler, and there plead for some assurance that would guarantee individual, personal, political, social and economic independence, to those nations yet unconquered, in a world otherwise controlled by a much stronger and better armed nation than even Germany is today.

Americans are an intelligent people. This is unfortunate for Hitler. They see through his scheme to ride the world by playing one nation against another, until, one at a time, he can gradually take them all under his protective custody. Any one, isolationists or otherwise, who tries to say that Germany is not a threat to the independence of the United States insults the native intelligence of millions of American citizens.

Americans are now awake to the fact that the United States must arm heavily and in expensive confusion in a few months time to offset seven years of intense preparation for war by Hitler, simply be-

We have a fearless leader now, what are we waiting for? Let Charles A Lindbergh lead, and we follow. IMPEACH all the way down, the whole RED DEAL. We cannot appeal to our Representatives, for we only have one--the rest are all rubber-stamps. So, we have no leadership from W. Va.. Just what are we to do except follow Lindy. What do people in other States do, when they have no Representatives to lead them? You start IMPEACHMENT proceeding against the whole bunch, and we will follow, by the millions. No man dare take a country to un-declared war. NOT HERE, IN AMERICA. We can get rubber-stamps for 50 cents. We demand a house-cleaning. I refuse to pay those big salaries, to be betrayed. Mr. Hoover, we appeal to you

HONOLULU, Hawaii

As an American citizen and a veteran of the world war, I claim the right to frankly criticize that laxity on the part of our Federal Officials which permits Charles A. Lindberg to broadcast the most flagrant German propaganda in the guise of well-intentioned effort to keep the people of the United States out of war.

An examination of his latest broadcasts, made at a time when the moral of the American and English nations and their complete cooperation is so vastly important to the successful conclusion to activities which may determine the future of our nation, leaves no doubt as to the dangerous nature of Mr. Lindberg's real aims.

The strongest proof of his disloyalty is found in his most recent utterances. He states that England will turn against the United States before this war is over if it proves to her interest to do so, and he attempts to prove this by a statement that England has turned against France.

Any intelligent American Citizen, and also Mr. Lindberg, knows that England did not turn against France, and that the activities of England against the Territory Occupied by France has been necessary because it is used by Germany for military purposes. The same holds true in all cases where England and any French interests have been placed in juxtaposition.

INDEXED RECORDED

He states that in the future the two great victors of the air will be Germany and the United States. This is only another way of stating that Germany will win the present war.

These utterances of Mr. Lindberg, made at this time, open to serious question the propriety and dignity of his activities even before this war commenced. Why did he establish a residence in England when he did when before cites the last 150 years of history to prove his statement that England is not a loyal and responsible nation in world's affairs?

The nature of his reports at the time of his visit to Russia which antagonized the officials of that country would also come under question, as would his continued leaning toward Germany which has culminated in broadcasting to the American people a near praise of Germany's outrageous use of force.

There is no question that the propaganda contained in his recent broadcasts is highly welcome to Mr. Hitler and his cohorts and there is no question that Mr. Lindberg has sufficient intelligence to know it.

I believe that it is strong in the minds of many American people that the evidence and the urgent necessity is sufficient that Charles A. Lindberg should be put under immediate surveillance and restraint as directed by the Government of the United States.

Mr J Edgar Hoover
Dear Sir

I have just read an article in the Boston Sunday Globe on date of Sept 21st by Rabbi Wise of Boston Mass; wherein he commented on the speech of Charles Lindbergh which he delivered the same at Des Moines Iowa, in which he abused the Jews, and praised Hitler to the highest high and proclaimed the Jews to be hangmen or in other words a pack of Good Suckers, and said that America was the only country on the face of the earth where the Jews were allowed to do business, and as he had been put it they ran rampant all over the country, and also claimed that our country should make a negociation peace with Hitler, and that all the help we give Great Britain and Russia will be just like so much going to the Syphus for Hitler was going to win out you Indians I think a lot of you as a man who believe in fair play, and one thing is positively sure if an other person man or woman in our country to day ever did or dared to do or say what this officer of Hitler's black legion Lindberg has already been guilty of doing to try and disrupt our country the way this man has, they would try to get him out <sup>RECORDED</sup> ~~65-11444-90~~ and put him in the Death Penitentiary at Alvista Ga. along with the notorious Gestapo Hitler. Dear Sir,

Your recent attack in the press linking Charles Lindberg with a Nazis is unjustified and an insult to real Americans, with all those stupid speeches coming from the White House dictator and ~~the~~ Nehrer and comrades of Joe Stalain, Mr. Lindberg along with other real Americans like Senators Wheeler, Nye, Johnson and many others command the respect of true and real Americans, if there were more men like them we would have unity instead of contempt for the administration.

700 Express Their Views On Lindbergh Editorial

Approximately 700 letters, telegrams and postcards have been received by The Standard-Times, Mercury in Gladwyne, on the editorial, "Farewell to Lindbergh," written by Stephen Darrow, publisher. The editorial, which appeared in these newspapers Sept. 26, called for aid to the Lindbergh boy.

It declared: "All due credit is due Lindbergh and to Lindbergh's sincerity, straightforwardness and frankness, who know exactly what they are doing, his supporting Lindbergh. These elements show the Lindbergh's unfactual statements are nothing but good Nazi propaganda. . . . I would like to see the dreams (of Lindbergh and his wife) broken by both long enough for Lindbergh to know that he has been doing TO—and not FOR—this country."

The editorial also appeared in many other newspapers, among them the New York Times; Boston Herald; Chicago Tribune; Elkhorn (Okla.) Daily Journal; Fort Wayne (Ind.) Journal-Gazette; Topeka (Kan.) City Call; Columbus City (Ohio) Post; Centerville (Pa.) Record; Bloomington (Ind.) Telephone; High Point (N.C.) Enterprise; Standard (Conn.) Advocate; Women's Wear Daily, published in New York City; Madison (Wis.) Capital Times; Wichita (Kan.) Eagle; Tulsa (Okla.) Tribune and World; Nowell (N.J.) Spectator.

Cabinet Members Write

Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, wrote concerning it: "Your Farewell to Lindbergh is a bold, strong piece of truth that ought to be read by every American."

Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy, wrote: "I cannot restrain myself from sending you my congratulations on a job well done."

Albert Hayard Swope, former executive editor of the New York World, wrote: "It is done well."

George A. Curtis, general manager of United Feature Syndicate, and J. Schlesinger, one of the great leaders of our time, Frank T. Bryan, editor of The Sun Times of Madison, Wis., "I have reproduced the Farewell to Lindbergh editorial in The Standard-Times as a public service."

I. H. Sturtevant, editor of The Standard-Times as a public service, I hope that your newspaper, Lindbergh, is not at all afraid of the truth, as was shown in the Boston speech. No one is more fitting and deserving of an audience than Lindbergh is undoubtedly. Your editorial, however, directed to the views expressed by the editorial, were received and examples of such types of letters are published below.

has been pursued carefully, and a few points crop up.

So that "knowledge of elements of history" which you attribute to Mr. Lindbergh seems to have invaded your editorial spectrum—Great Britain and France rightfully could have been called "interventionists" in Poland and Czechoslovakia ever since the close of the World War—but it was the joining of those two nations which supported the two smaller countries in order to build a ring around Germany and, inadvertently, they set the stage for the present war.

I admit we accepted help from France in the War of Independence, but we were intelligent enough to stay out of another war at a later date, although France did make many claims for aid on the basis of her aid during the Revolution. Our leaders at that time were gifted with a sense of statesmanship, in addition to being Americans.

Abraham Lincoln did not "intervene" in the War between the States—he acted at the head of a great nation—had Andrew Jackson been living at that time, the action would have been swifter, the language more salty.

Regardless of how small a wealthy percentage of the population of this country, its actors, playwrights, propaganda agents of every breed may pant for war, these four points remain undisputed on the American scene:

THAT WE were led blindfolded into the last war, and now we have nothing to show for our participation but white crosses, broken bodies and minds, a vast desolation, a huge load of debt and the contempt of our former allies.

THAT A war-minded clique is using press, radio, lecture platform, and movies to get us into another war which 80 percent of the American people don't want.

AFTER THIS European war is over, you can still trade with the rest of the world, no matter who winds up on the top of the heap of this present dog fight in the Old World, for no proof to the contrary ever has been presented that we then would be isolated. You've done business with all the world on the terms dictated by Great Britain ever since you were a country—you even fought a second war with them to get a decent break in that regard.

THAT WE are loaded with debt now—the burden will become greater, all in the name of spreading the four freedoms, and any participation on our part in this war will fill more graves, more hospitals, more institutions, and we then will beg for help from the same countries which we are now aiding. The German government seems to like to bully, and Britain and France seem to like to bully. Marshal's suggestion has been followed only back after Ambassador Kennedy, who appears to be nothing but a pawn from Europe to him, and Roosevelt returns to him one other than himself—possibly Churchill or Stalin.

Please, Mr. Brewer, do not worry about Mr. Lindbergh being played for a sucker. Mr. Lindbergh is capable of taking care of himself.

I wish to congratulate you on your editorial, "Farewell to Lindbergh." It was timely, and particularly fitting that it was published in the Chicago Tribune. The Tribune rather would see this country sink to the abyssal depths of hell rather than support or approve any policy of the present Administration.

The President may be wrong in some measures but he sincerely and courageously is attempting to defend our standards of life and the rights which are the inherent legacy of the people of this nation. It is the hope of all free men that the President is right in the administration of our foreign policy but, right or wrong, he is our President and all patriotic citizens will stand by him in this crisis.

the foolish policy of the Roosevelt administration, which brought us to the very brink of war and is likely to bring us into war. It may have caused a departure of Congress from its original purpose to me that people who had such action could be offered without reason for personal gain. But the fact that they did not Lindbergh and Lindbergh's opponents, whether any member of any minor party, offered it is a known or a fact to represent either far or against him in war. The terrible consequences will come by entering a war with other European and Asiatic powers decided that the time be considered fully and freely and with a complete knowledge of all the possibilities of war, and the dangers of not entering.

The future of America will be jeopardized in either case. However, the majority of Americans of the remainder of our lives and generations to come stand upon the correct position being made. The character, actions and speeches of the President, his Cabinet, and certain members of Congress willfully informed and instructed, but where people who want to "destroy" speak out of strict adherence to their principal argument, they thereby exclude the majority of their cause.

Lincoln offered me a history of history to read that George Washington and the soldiers of the revolution were interventionists, but Lincoln's use of force to prevent the breakup of the Union was intervening.

Referring to something that is in your editorial, I observe that the chief reason that the author gives now for his steps and acts is the preservation of freedom of the seas. The intervention of "freedom of the seas" is rather interesting. The author says, "I will mark out parts of the ocean as suitable and necessary for the defense of America and we will not let German warships that are to be seen in those regions." Also, the American Bar Association (President) says that Great Britain and the United States must control the sea for the next century. And they call that war for "Democracy".

It is a great field of travel and adventure, the State of Illinois and the United States can do nothing. I have had no opportunity to get into the deeper motions in politics, but I am a democrat and I am a democrat. I am a democrat and I am a democrat.

Lindbergh has been criticized for wanting a medal from the Red Cross. You know, as any good anti-interventionist person, I think you would like to give a medal to a man who has done a good job, but I don't think the American people would like to hear him say he is criticizing Lindbergh for his emotional appeal underlying to bring him to the American people the horrors of war.

make their best of America. You should be farewell to Lindbergh, and also farewell to Wheeler, Rye and Clark.

Yours,

J. W. Cooper,
Jackson, N. Y.

P.S.

I have read your editorial, "Farewell to Lindbergh," with profound sorrow. Whatever else may be said about Mr. Lindbergh, I and thousands of others like me, believe that he is motivated by the single unshakable desire to keep his country clear of the disastrous consequences of interlacing in European wars.

I submit that his English, his grammar and his rhetoric are not proper subjects for criticism as relating to his views on foreign and domestic affairs.

It is true that Major de Seversky has challenged some of Lindbergh's views on aviation; but an honest difference of opinion does not prove Lindbergh wrong and Major de Seversky right or vice versa. I have the impression that Al Williams, writing for the Scripps - Howard newspapers, would incline towards Lindbergh's views on aviation; and he is presumed to be an authority on aviation also.

The American people lifted

Lindbergh to his present position after he flew the Atlantic in 1927.

I, for one, never believed that

Lindbergh deserved the acclaim that he received for his great solo flight. Alcock and Brown, who first flew the Atlantic non-stop in an airplane, deserved the plaudits that went to Lindbergh; but who remembers those two intrepid pioneers in trans-ocean flying? That, however, has nothing to do with Lindbergh's present views.

Lindbergh's father opposed our entry in the World War and was

"scorned and egged for his pains."

Isn't it rather generally agreed that we made a grave and costly error by entering that conflict?

Doesn't every authoritative American historian agree that we actually had as much cause to fight

England as we had to fight Germany? Isn't it a fact that the Allies pleaded with us to save them and then ridiculed our offests and called us "Uncle Shylock" when the war was safely won for "Democracy"?

Was Lindbergh wrong when he called our New Deal Administration extravagant, imprudent and visionary theorists? Do you suspect the emotional, hysterical propaganda emanating from the pro-war group designed to arouse the fear of the American people with the same breath criticizing Lindbergh for an emotional appeal underlying to bring him to the American people the horrors of war?

Lindbergh has been criticized

Lindbergh has been criticized for wanting a medal from the Red Cross. You know, as any good anti-interventionist and the world gives to him at that time that the world might have been given to any number of other countries. Why should he return to the same place any time he thought of a degree from a German University during the Nazi regime should return his degree. Such an action, in my estimation, would be childish. And, second, any man who charges that I am a paid member of this crew is a dirty, unscrupulous liar.

If Lindbergh is given a little time now to believe that he is not a Nazi would be not prior to let the English know, would have nothing to do with him, however, definitely, the man, having passed, was in try to get Germany, France and England involved in a racial war—and then, except as she was, came in and dominated the entire continent.

Who said Nazis was incompetent, and Germany superior. Mr. Lindbergh—and I know because he did not know what others meant by their complicity.

You say: "He prophesied that Britain would fall within 30 to 40 days after Dunkirk." Didn't most of us? And then Mr. Shirer, in his "Berlin Diary," gives us the possible explanation for Lindbergh's and our error. Mr. Shirer says that Hitler did not try to defeat Britain after Dunkirk. He says that Hitler thought Britain would be willing to negotiate a peace very favorable to Germany, thus enabling Germany to "win" the war without invading Britain. Shirer says that this delay by Hitler very well may have been a fatal error which cost Germany victory. If Shirer is correct, why blame Lindbergh for his inability to read Hitler's mind? Had Hitler acted promptly to invade Britain immediately after Dunkirk, Lindbergh's prophecy might well have been true.

It is my own view that we have now gone so far on the road to war that it is too late to turn back. The die is cast and, like it or not, as good Americans we must stand together. I hope that Mr. Lindbergh soon will reach this conclusion, but whether he does or not I cannot condemn him for his efforts to keep us out of what is bound to be a most disastrous venture, even in victory. Instead of a "Farewell to Lindbergh," I think you may hear much more of this courageous youth than in the next few years when we all will be looking for patriots instead of politicians.

I believe it would be advisable for the Government, if the F.B.I. would reopen the Lindberg vs Hauptmann Case. In reorganizing the facts already so far as you will find the Lindbergh child was abducted but not murdered.

We also will advise at the conclusion that Mr. Lindbergh is not fit for trial in voluntariness. He is forced to expand certain stories by the "Third Reich" because his child is being held in so-called safe-keeping by the "Third Reich".

Subject: Missing Plans for the Self-sealing Gas Tank sent to Charles A. Lindbergh by Marvin E. Rutherford. (Date)

Summary of Information:

Investigation reveals that the Self-sealing Gas Tank was perfected by Marvin E. Rutherford, and the plans of the tank were sent via registered mail to Mr. Charles A. Lindbergh in care of the New Devices Committee, Washington, D. C.

Further, that nothing was subsequently heard of the action taken with regard to the tank and Rutherford made inquiry concerning said plans; that the Committee denied having received the plans; and thereupon Rutherford requested an investigation by the FBI into the whereabouts of the missing plans.

This office was informed that the Post Office Department had located the person who accepted receipt of the registered package which supposedly contains the plans of the self-sealing tank.

Sir

The enclosed cutting from the Boston Herald of October 31st is interesting.

It is well known today that Lindbergh's son was a spy for Germany when Lindbergh went on a visit to Morocco.
Very distinguished

ANONYMOUS

America in 1738. 2

But it is truly amusing and ironical to realize that Edinburgh, that devoted admirer of the Huguenots, was quick to copy in its limiting the strictness of the Protestant Church.
As is well known in Scotland, Edinburgh was like unto Ulster

He arrived up Berlin, after his return from Moscow to London
where this kind people then were glad to see him telling his story quite that the Russian army was badly organized, ill-educated

Friendship also is.
These have occurred his very friends, in his letters from London,
that he had carefully reflected the various virtues and the like

He had no difficulty in getting it off the ground. It could fly.
He flew it right with the German Air Force.
With many successes.
And he got this call.
He tried what he believed to be the strength of the British Air Force which he was quite satisfied with. (Air in

Stalin Concealed Facts from Lindbergh

To the Editor of The Herald:

Your editorial, "The Russian Riddle," makes one remember that the "military experts" have been wrong from the time the war began in 1939. They believed that the French had a fine, strong army and that the Russians had a miserable, weak one, shot through with disloyalty, and with both officers and men too stupid to understand mechanized implements of war, while the Russian air force was a "joke".

Of course Stalin always kept the real strength of his army a close secret because he knew that Russia had only one loyal ally in the world, Czechoslovakia. Stalin knew well that the French meant to betray him to Hitler, as the French betrayed the British in June, 1940, and that the French would make a sudden peace with Hitler and leave Russia (if Stalin had joined France and England as an ally in 1939) to bear all the burden of the war against Germany.

Charles Lindbergh's enormous self-conceit is a byword today and it seems never to have entered Lindbergh's mind that the Russians did not show him all their air power when he went on a visit to Moscow in 1938. The Russians did not trust Lindbergh and deliberately misled him by showing him the weakest part of their air force.

Russia and Germany in 1940 had the only two modern armies in the world. The French, who sneered at Stalin and his Russian army for 20 years, are today the contempt of all other races, after their cowardly and treacherous behavior in 1940. The French have to start from scratch now to build up their prestige and national character again. Old Petain, who betrayed France to Hitler, is now howling with alarm and fingering his treacherous old hands as he sees 200 Frenchmen shot in cold blood.

Island Home Brings Peace To Lindbergh

Special to The Christian Science Monitor
EDGARDOWN, Mass., Nov. 19—

Charles A. Lindbergh, happy in the solitude of a "civil wilderness," today moved "over the hill" from the farm in which he has been spending a vacation into a winter home, the estate of the late Harvard Dean Nathaniel S. Shaler.

Mr. Lindbergh took a summer residence in Martha's Vineyard last August, settling on Seven Gates Farm, a semi-co-operative estate sprawling over scores of acres of the lonely North Shore of the Island. He was one of several tenants.

The flier, with his wife and children, has now leased the old Shaler residence, an Island show-piece for many years, and moved in for several months.

How long they will stay after the first of the year is not known. Their movement attracts little attention here, largely because of their desire to remain out of public view.

Dean Shaler bought the Seven Gates estate in the late 1900s and lived there until his passing in 1906. Henry Beetle Hough, editor of the Vineyard Gazette and author of "Country Editor," explained today. The Harvard Dean, he said, insisted that the terrain be left natural, unspoiled, "tamed" enough to enjoy, but still a "civil wilderness."

Only a few scattered homes dot the rough landscape, lonely with broad fields, sand dunes, sheep pastures, and scraggly brush. There is room to ride, room to take long walks, room to be alone. It is here that the isolationist leader has settled after unsuccessfully searching for solitude in many parts of the United States and in England.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. LADD

Colonel J. T. Bissell of MID advised the writer that in 1937 while Charles A. Lindbergh was on duty in the War Department shortly after his return from Germany a civilian had sent to Lindbergh a complete set of plans for a self-sealing gas tank. Colonel Bissell stated that shortly after this plan was received the Germans appeared with a self-sealing gas tank for airplanes at the time when the United States Army Air Corps had no such apparatus.

Colonel Bissell stated that MID had investigated this matter and has come to the conclusion that Colonel Lindbergh received the plans but that no record is contained at the present time in the War Department files. He stated that the Air Corps has written to Lindbergh requesting the plans or an explanation as to the disposition of them.

Colonel Bissell advised that he was reporting this for the information of the Bureau.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON
MR. LADD
MR. Tamm

While talking with the Attorney General at this time I told him that we are attempting to obtain an interview today with Henry Ford.

I advised the Attorney General that if Ford gives us the information concerning Lindberg, who is the source of Ford's information, my idea is to have two of our best men see Lindberg and call upon him to give us the information he has. If he refuses to do this, we will confront him with the fact that he gave Ford the name of an officer from whom he got his information. If Lindberg confirms this or refuses to give us any information we can then give consideration as to whether he should be called before a Grand Jury. I said that I believed he should either be made to put up or shut up.

The Attorney General stated that he believed if we could get a strong report on this it might give the President a chance to clean out some "brass hats". I told the Attorney General that the trouble there would be the same as in the story of the "Hull - Lakes fight" which was reported in the Washington Merry-Go-Round, the information coming from a Cabinet officer. I stated that this presented a very bad feature in connection with the problem.

Very truly yours,

Out here in the West we think he might well condemn many other persons and firms, as well as Hitler. He could well condemn the fellows who have been propagandizing us to get the U. S. Dear Sirs:

In view of the past political activities of Charles A. Lindbergh and the dubiousness of his loyalty to the United States, would it not be well to take the precaution of having the gentleman in question move from Martha's Vineyard (his present residence according to the newspapers) to a town in the middle-west?

Most of us would appreciate knowing that "enemy Americans" are being controlled as well as German and Japanese suspects.

Martha's Vineyard, being not only a very remote spot but a place easily accessible from a boat off the coast, would of course be an ideal location for a person whose sympathies lay with Germany, for instance.

Yours very sincerely,

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

Mr. Bugas called from Detroit and advised that, pursuant to my additional instructions, he had been able to arrange an interview with Mr. Henry Ford. Henry Ford stated that he asked Colonel Charles A. Lindberg to come out to Detroit and to visit him at the plant because he wanted to talk to Lindberg about Lindberg's attitude toward the Jews. Henry Ford told Bugas that he had heard a speech which Lindberg had made several nights before, and Ford did not like some of the things which Lindberg had said about the Jews. Accordingly, he asked Lindberg to come out and see him so that he could give some views on that score. Lindberg was out there about four weeks ago, and while Ford did not know the exact date, he stated he would check his files and advise Bugas.

Henry Ford stated that Lindberg had stayed overnight and that the conversations were principally about Jewish matters. Henry Ford does not recall any conversations on the part of Lindberg with regard to Lindberg's obtaining or securing information from the War Department. Specifically asked, Henry Ford stated that he did not recall Lindberg's talking about obtaining any information from any Army officer or making any other statement with respect to the Army or armed forces. Ford stated that, in addition to not recalling any such statements, he does not believe that any such statements were made.

While Lindberg was in Detroit, he and Henry Ford were in Harry Bennett's office for several hours. During this period Bennett and Lindberg were alone together several times and Ford was in and out of the office.

Bugas accordingly contacted Bennett again, and Bennett claims that, in thinking over the matter and trying to recall some of the details of it, he has been unable to recall Lindberg's mentioning the name of the man he contacted in Washington frequently, but stated that Lindberg told him that, because of some apprehension over contacting his regular source of information within the War Department, he had frequently on recent occasions been seeing a Major Biggs, who is an aide to General Arnold. Bennett could not be sure that Higgs was a Major, but was certain that he was an officer of some kind. Bennett believes that Higgs would know the name of Lindberg's principal contact. Bennett also suggested that possibly Major Lanphier might know who Lindberg's contacts are, Bennett believing that Lanphier and Lindberg used to be very close although Bennett understands they have quarreled recently. Bennett further suggested that Eddie Clements and Major Cunningham, Ford representatives in Washington, might know something about Lindberg's contacts.

I am asking Colonel Bissell to get a line on Higgs. I remember Major Lanphier, having met him during the early stages of the Lindberg kidnaping. I will endeavor to locate him and will try to interview Higgs and Lanphier if the basic information obtained justifies this.

His Excellency
President of the United States
Franklin Delano Roosevelt
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

I am enclosing herewith an article which appeared in the Minneapolis Star-Journal on Sunday, January 4 of this year, which I think is of enough importance to warrant your possible glance.

The article is self-explanatory. However, I would like to add that my personal view would be that, in case the Army would consider Mr. Lindbergh, in any kind of service, that they look into this angle of the matter in regard to Mr. Lindbergh. I do not mean to infer that you should peremptorily reject the services offered by Mr. Lindbergh to the Army, but I do say that you should investigate all possible sides of this question, before you come to a decision, as the good of the Army and incidentally the good of the this dear old P. S. A. should come above any group or individual who professes to slap you in the face one moment and then kiss you the next. Please note the old adage, "A leopard does not change his spots ever night."

I would like to add that from the point of view of actual service to the Army, I think that there are hundreds of fliers in this country today who are better equipped to render that service from this point alone; namely that Mr. Lindbergh has not really done any flying since about 1928, which is 13 years, and in that time things have changed considerably not only in the field of aviation but in almost any other field of endeavor.

Assuring you of my utmost co-operation in this hour of destiny, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Sir:

With reference to the inquiries that I have been making through HARRY BENNETT and HENRY FORD concerning CHARLES A. LINDBERGH's source of information in the War Department, through which he receives confidential and restricted data allegedly, please be advised that Mr. HARRY BENNETT telephoned the writer and stated that he had determined the man that LINDBERGH has contacted very frequently on LINDBERGH's trips to Washington and from whom he very probably receives whatever information he may receive concerning Army matters and military preparations is a RALPH COUSINS in the office of General ARNOLD. BENNETT described COUSINS as a general.

BENNETT stated that he received this information from the Ford representative in Washington, Mr. CLEMENTS, whose name has been referred to the Bureau in previous correspondence on this matter.

This information was telephoned to Mr. AL ROSEN of the Bureau on the day it was received for transmittal to Mr. TAMM.

Regarding Mr. Charles Lindbergh, who has applied for a commission in the Air Force.

Are you informed as to his utterance in New York City on December 17, 1941? I am told that at the home of Mr. Edwin S. Webster, Beekman Place, Mr. Lindbergh is said to have made the following statement:

"There is only one danger in the world - that is the yellow danger. China and Japan are really bound together against the white race. There could only have been one efficient weapon against this alliance, underneath the surface, Germany itself could have been this weapon. The ideal set-up would have been to have had Germany take over Poland and Russia, in collaboration with the British, as a bloc against the yellow people and bolshevism. But instead, the British and the fools in Washington had to interfere. The British envied the Germans and wanted to rule the world forever. Britain is the real cause of all the trouble in the world today.

I was surprised for as Mr. Hearst has said again and again it is but the conduct of the exploit and pamper son of the rich. How much more magnificent has been Lindbergh's conduct. 1-29-42

JOPLIN GLOBE, SUNDAY, JANUARY 4, 1942.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT ALLEN

Washington, Charles Lindbergh, who came back to the Capital by offering his services in the flying corps, recently was doing some "pre-war" talking.

The ex-colonel spoke at a secret meeting of former America First officials in New York on December 17, 10 days after the Pearl Harbor attack.

Lindbergh arrived late at the gathering and at first said he did not care to speak. But finally, he took the floor and talked for nearly an hour. In his extemporaneous speech he made it clear that the events in the Pacific had not caused him to change his mind regarding his previous public charge that the president's foreign policies would involve the country in war.

Lindbergh told his associates that Britain was responsible for the war; also that Britain should have joined with Germany in destroying Soviet Russia.

Then, he opined, we would have been in a much better position to fight Japan in the Pacific.

The ex-colonel also counseled his listeners to keep in the background for the present. He indicated belief that there would be plenty of opportunity later for renewed activity and criticism of the "America First" type.

Note: G. L. K. Smith, Detroit isolationist leader, is quietly trying to line up former America First leaders to help him in a nationwide campaign to petition congress to demand that ex-hero Lindbergh be made head of the United States' air forces and Senators Wheeler and Nye be appointed members of the cabinet.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

Now that Lindbergh is back in the army of the technical end of it of our air service after so bitterly denouncing our President in all of his speeches, I trust that if he utters any more of his vituperation against the president, that he will be immediately dismissed from the service. As you know, he was very anxious to go to Germany, and was only prevented by the influence of his friends, as he is very pro-German, as stated by Col. S. H. Church, President of Carnegie Institute at Pittsburgh in his letter to me, which kindly return.

65-11449-126

I congratulate you for the very excellent work your men are doing in rounding up spies and other dangerous enemies of our Uncle Sam, including the German Bund gang. Every Communist is an enemy of our country, of which there are over 37,000 in New York.

Yours very respectfully,
